

What can you do in your classroom to promote functional print?

What goals might you establish for individual and groups children in your class using the following materials?

- Magnetic letter (upper and lower case)
- Letter stamps
- Using order forms in dramatic play
- Where might you place clipboard around the room for writing?
- Where might children tell personal stories? Who will do the dictation?
- Where might you create a small or whole group story?
- How might you use wordless pictures books to facilitate language?
- Where and how might you use word cards?
- Where and how might you place a dictionary?

How might you bring functional writing into all areas of the classroom?

How might functional writing be use during routine times in your classroom?

Where might you add environmental print in your classroom?