

Useful Internet Links Related to Teacher-Child Relationships and Emotional Literacy

Using Literature to Help Children Cope With Problems. Eric Clearinghouse on Reading, English, and Communication Digest # 148. Accessed 11/2/08 at <http://reading.indiana.edu/ieo/digests/dl48.html>

NIEER (March 2005). Promoting Children's Social and Emotional Development Through Preschool Education by Judi Boyd, W. Steven Barnett, Elena Bodrova, Deborah J. Leong, and Deanna Gomby Children. Accessed online 11/2/08 at <http://nieer.org/resources/policyreports/report7.pdf>

NIEER (November/December 2007). Rx for Behavior Problems in Pre-K. Preschool Matters. 5 (5). Accessed online 11/2/08 at <http://nieer.org/psm/index.ppphp?article=233>

NAEYC/ Self-esteem and young children: You are the key. Early Years are Learning Years. NAEYC Resources: EYLY: 98/15. Accessed 11/2/08 at <http://www.naeyc.org/resources/eyly/1998/15.htm>

Ostrosky, M.M. and Jung, E.Y. (n.d.). Building Positive Teacher-Child Relationships. Center on the Social and Emotional Foundations for Early Learning. Accessed 11/2/08 at: www.vanderbilt.edu/csefel/briefs/wwb12.pdf

Howes, C. (September, 1999). Social-emotional classroom climate in child care, child-teacher relationships and children's second-grade peer relations. Cited in Child Care Social Climate. NCEDL Spotlights (14). Accessed online 11/3/08 at www.fpg.unc.edu/NCEDL/PDFs/spot14.pdf

Joseph, G., Strain, P. and Ostrosky, M.M. Fostering Emotional Literacy in Young Children: Labeling Emotions. From 2008 Kansas Inservice Training System (KITS) Summer Institute. Accessed 11/4/08 at: www.kskits.org/publications/NewslettersPDF/Vol17_2Spring2008.pdf

Zeller, J. (2008). Early Childhood Education and Beyond: Teacher-Child Relationships and Learning. Accessed online 11/3/08 at: www.uknow.gse.harvard.edu/teaching/TC101-207.html

Committee for Children (2007). Linking Literacy and Language with Social and Emotional Learning. Accessed online 11/3/08 at <http://www.cfchildren.org/issues/sel/litsel/>